This application aims to offer small and medium businesses an affordable solution to help them issue and keep track of their invoices.

"The Night Clock" is a simple, yet traditional calculator. Buttons with basic functions like addition, subtraction, multiplication and division are included. The clock has been ported from the original application for PC Windows to the iPhone. Simplicity is one of the principle concepts that "The Night Clock" aims to achieve. Designing the user interface was one of the first objectives of its creators. Although the functionality is pretty basic, the application can do a very good job of time conversion. Moreover, a feature is also included in the application that can display the correct time in any place around the world. The application is free for iPhone owners. Neeya is a dictionary with over 100,000 definitions that you can use on your iPhone. It's simple to use: you can look up a word with one of the four buttons included in the application or use the Spotlight function (if it has been activated, of course). After that, the definition appears on the screen, accompanied by a short sentence extracted from the available translations. If you want, you can look at the list of possible translations. In a similar way to other dictionaries, you can remove the definition and add a new one. The "Neeya Dictionary" is a bilingual dictionary app, with definitions also available in French, Italian, German and Spanish. The application is free and will work on all the iOS devices. To use Scribble to take notes on your iPhone is quite easy. All you have to do is tap on a word you want to use, and you'll be presented with options to use a pre-selected dictionary (or those included in the application), a stylus, the keyboard, and the voice recorder. In addition, you can save your notes in Notes. Scribble is a note-taking application. The dictionary is included in this app, as well as a stylus and the voice recorder. Users can then take notes on their iPhone using the provided tools. One of the two note-taking modes is free, and the other is available for purchase. The chinese language is included in Ibus. This is a dictionary with free lessons and dictionaries for young children, as well as a selection of 100,000 definitions and 46,000 proverbs. The app includes an English-Chinese dictionary and

 Automatically inserts invoice category number as soon as the user leaves category
 Let customers edit their comments and then reapply them at any time
 What is new in this version: This application is now Portable for Windows 8.

Q: How to calculate the inner product of two vectors
 Suppose $x_1, x_2, \dots, x_n, y_1, y_2, \dots, y_n$ are vectors in \mathbb{R}^n ($n \in \mathbb{N}$), and $\sum_{i=1}^n x_i^2 = 1, \sum_{i=1}^n y_i^2 = 1$ I want to calculate $\langle \sum_{i=1}^n x_i, \sum_{i=1}^n y_i \rangle$. My approach is as follows: $\langle \sum_{i=1}^n x_i, \sum_{i=1}^n y_i \rangle = \langle \sum_{i=1}^n x_i, x_1 \rangle + \langle \sum_{i=1}^n x_i, y_1 \rangle$. I am not sure if there is a better way to do this. Any help is appreciated.

A: If you want to calculate $\langle \sum_{i=1}^n x_i, \sum_{i=1}^n y_i \rangle = \sum_{i=1}^n x_i y_i$ it will be enough that your vectors are in \mathbb{R}^2 : $\langle (x_1, x_2), (y_1, y_2) \rangle = x_1 y_1 + x_2 y_2$ If you want to calculate the inner product of two vectors in \mathbb{R}^n , you can use the following fact: If $u = \sum_{i=1}^n u_i$
